

First Homework Assignment

What's this?

The purpose of this first homework assignment is to open the lines of communication between us in a positive manner. With your support, our efforts in the classroom are much more likely to lead to success for your student. If you would like to contact me (at any time during the year) feel free to call, set up a conference, write a note, or e-mail me at school (rkrall@sayresd.org)

What do I do with it?

Look over the attached papers, if you have any questions, feel free to call or e-mail me. Your student needs to return this signed paper to me by Friday, August 28th in a 3-ring binder which will be used as their notebook. If you don't have a 3-ring binder by Friday, I will provide one free of charge.

If your student returns the paper by Friday, they will receive a 100% as their first homework assignment. If not, you will be getting a phone call from me wondering where it is.

A few things I would like to mention to you:

- Your student's grades are visible to you through the Skyward program from any internet capable device. Please get a Skyward account if you don't already and monitor your student's grades at least once a week.
- If your student's grade is less than a 70% for more than a week, get in touch with me. There is no reason for anyone to be failing this class.
- Much of my class is posted on my website which is available through www.krallworld.net.

The signature part.

I have read and understand Mr. Krall's beginning of the year papers.
